5G base station locations in South America

How many countries in Latin America have 5G services? As of March, eight countries in Latin America had launched commercial 5G services. The number of 5G connections is forecast to grow steadily over the next couple of years, before accelerating in the second half of the decade as new 5G markets go live and existing networks expand to cover new areas. Will 5G SA be available in Brazil? Moving to cloud-native infrastructure will be crucial to enable 5G standalone (5G SA) deployments. As is the case globally, most initial 5G deployments in Latin America have used a non-standalone (NSA) architecture. 5G networks in Brazil are a notable exception. 5G SA availability will increase in other parts of the region, however. How big is the 5G base station market? Macro cells represented USD 22.9 billion and 61.3% of the 5G base station market share, providing umbrella coverage and mobility anchor services. Yet small cells are forecast to expand at a 29.4% CAGR, pushing their slice of the 5G base station market size toward USD 50 billion with projections showing further cost reductions by 2030. Where is 5G SA available? To date, 5G SA is only available in Brazil and Colombia in the region, with the former home to a much larger rollout of 5G SA networks. All major operators have deployed 5G SA in Brazil after the telecoms regulator issued obligations for 5G SA rollout as part of the 5G spectrum auction.
