News Will anti-dumping & countervailing duty Impact India's Solar Exports? India's solar exports, particularly to the United States--a key growth market--are now under renewed pressure, with the latest anti-dumping and countervailing duty (AD/CVD) investigation launched by a consortium of American solar manufacturers threatening to disrupt the recent momentum built by Indian players in the clean energy export ecosystem. Are crystalline silicon photovoltaic cells subject to antidumping and countervailing duty? On August 7, , the U.S. Department of Commerce (Commerce) announced the initiation of antidumping duty (AD) and countervailing duty (CVD) investigations of crystalline silicon photovoltaic cells, whether or not assembled into modules (solar cells) from India, Indonesia, and the Lao People's Democratic Republic (Laos). Could India's solar export success story run into trouble? India's solar exports success story could run into trouble if the U.S. entertains petitions from domestic manufacturers to impose anti-dumping (AD) and countervailing duties (CVD) on module imports. Can India import solar modules from China? After imposing import duties on Chinese solar modules, the U.S. Department of Commerce clarified the scope of the anti-circumvention probe last August, allowing the import of solar modules made outside of Southeast Asia. Indian solar exports have surged in the last couple of years, benefitting from restrictions on Chinese imports. Do anti-dumping and countervailing investigations reduce China's photovoltaic export value? This finding reinforces our conclusion that anti-dumping and countervailing investigations significantly reduce China's photovoltaic export value and confirms the robustness of our results to alternative clustering levels. Table 5. Other robustness tests. Standard errors in parentheses. On April 21, , the U.S. Department of Commerce (Commerce) announced its final affirmative determinations in the antidumping duty (AD) and countervailing duty (CVD) investigations of crystalline photovoltaic cells whether or not assembled into modules (solar cells) from Cambodia, Malaysia, Thailand, and the Socialist Republic of Vietnam (Vietnam).
